YEAR OF CONSECRATED LIFE. Clerks Regular. Clerks Regular appear in the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries. They make the religious life the foundation of their priestly apostolate. They adapt religious life to the changing needs of the times, though without making it less strict. At the end of the sixteenth and in the seventeenth centuries, Clerical Religious Congregations appear in the Church. Some of these are pious associations of clerics; later, associations of laymen started up. These live in community and have no desire to become true religious orders. In addition to dedicating themselves to their own sanctification, they are also dedicated to the apostolate and to works of charity.

CHILDREN'S MASS. Children's mass is moved to the second Sunday of this month, 12 April. If you prefer a more solemn mass, please attend the 6:00 p.m. mass on 11 April. The choir will sing on the said date.

NEW ROTA. Starting next weekend there will be a rota for the counters of the mass offerings or mass collection. At the moment there are already four parishioners who agreed to do the counting and depositing of the money to the bank.

The parish church also needs cleaners. Rota for cleaners are also being prepared. If you want to help, please join.

The rota for counters and cleaners will help the parish to be a more participative church. Please get involved in the life of the church.
